

Amblecote Primary School – Vision

'At Amblecote we achieve because in our pupils' we believe'

At Amblecote we believe in the unique child, and endeavour to maximise the potential of every individual, every day.

We ensure that the children at Amblecote receive their entitlement of a broad and balanced curriculum and all aspects of the curriculum, especially the basic skills, are taught so children reach the highest attainment they are capable of.

We promote an ethos of fairness, community, curiosity, creativity, responsibility and independence within a school with a love of learning through fun, enjoyment and hard work.

We instil emotional intelligence, through SEAL (Social and Emotional Aspects of Learning) and expect values of honesty, integrity, commitment, resilience, perseverance and teamwork in all members of the Amblecote community, at school, at home and within the community both local and wider.

We believe in the development of the whole child as a human being and citizen. Qualities such as patience, collaboration, initiative, reliability, self-esteem and confidence are important in everyone.

We insist on respect for everyone and tolerance of different faiths, cultures and people. Equality is paramount to our thinking and everyone is equal. There is a zero tolerance for racism, sexism, genderism, homophobia or any extremist views which are against any faith, belief, culture or persons.

We ensure the pupil voice is heard through School Council, Eco committee, Anti Bullying Ambassadors, Collective worship group and the Cyber Council, as well as questionnaires and interviews. Parents' views are considered through our parent TEAM, parent Governors, annual parental questionnaires and our open door policy.

Amblecote is fully inclusive and committed to supporting all pupils identified with SEND (Special Educational Needs or Disability). Our skill is to ensure early identification and to work with parents and carers to support their child's needs, through our own interventions or with the assistance of appropriate outside agencies.

We will also ensure that we develop our more able pupils in whatever area they show prowess, either academically, physically, artistically, musically or socially. Our curriculum is inclusive to all faiths, beliefs, cultures and children.

We develop a learning community with an exciting, supportive environment and facilitators who develop active learning with interactive teaching promoting sustainable, lifelong transversal competencies, knowledge and skills especially in digital information technology, which will take the child through to adulthood and sustain them in the future world they will function in as an adult.

We will network and work locally within Amblecote, Stourbridge, Dudley and West Midlands, together with international and global opportunities for our pupils.

Through this vision and our commitment to the pupils and staff at Amblecote Primary school the Fundamental British Values will underpin everything, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and equality of opportunity, as well as mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs.

Thank you.
