Dear parents and carers,

Homework, remote learning and being prepared for isolation or lockdown.

The majority of parents/carers have now signed up to the ClassDojo to facilitate our Remote Learning Plan at Amblecote Primary School. Thank you so much for that.

The government is setting a very high expectation for remote learning (for pupils' education to continue, almost as if they were still in school) and all schools were legally required to have plans in place by the end of September. However, plans and high expectations are only achievable and effective with full support from home.

As we have invested so much in getting everyone connected to ClassDojo, this is the tool we will use, as a school, to deliver remote learning. We will use it to set work for pupils' who are well but isolating and therefore cannot come to school – as we are currently doing. We will also use it for full on remote learning in the event of a bubble closure or full school closure. It is essential that parents keep checking it regularly and that set work is returned for marking and feedback from the teacher.

In order to address issues such as technology and availability of support, it would be helpful to know more about pupils' access to this and we ask that parents please complete our survey (link on ParentHub) by Wednesday 7th October.

Thank you for your continued support.
